WHAT IS MCCS?

You've seen our logo, but do you truly know who we are and why it's our mission to serve you?

The nation depends on Marines to uphold and defend the American way of life and our freedoms. There is a team of people at work to help Marines, Sailors and their families balance the demands of the Marine Corps lifestyle. Marine Corps Community Services is that team. We have made our own commitment to, “improvise, adapt and overcome” in order to offer bold solutions, greater connectivity and attention to details that make a difference to our Marines by providing a consistently exceptional experience at any one of our programs, services and facilities. At MCCS, our mission is you.

MCCS offers family services, fitness programs, shopping, dining, special events and more. These services are must haves in our remote location, and they are meeting needs in every area of life.

The Marine Corps utilizes MCCS as a way to increase the quality of life of service members and their families on bases around the globe. MCCS was established in 1999. To this day, it remains the only organization within the Department of War (DoW) that combines family services; off-duty voluntary education; child, youth and teen programs; Morale, Welfare and Recreation; and Marine Corps Exchanges under a single organizational construct. MCCS strives to be a user-friendly and responsive enterprise that provides reliable, relevant support to Marines, Sailors and their families throughout their entire affiliation with the United States Marine Corps.

We accomplish this through a professional workforce focused on customer service. The organization employs over 12,000 civilians and operates over 2,250 facilities worldwide. Our customers include active duty, reservists, retirees, DoW civilians, family members and some DoW contractors. We truly are here to better your quality of life as you sacrifice to serve our nation. For more information about MCCS Twentynine Palms, visit 29palms.usmc-mccs.org.

MCAGCC HISTORY

The Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center has the largest landmass of any Marine Corps base in the world, encompassing approximately 1,100 square miles of the southern Mojave Desert. The Combat Center is about five miles north of the city of Twentynine Palms, CA, population 29,000, and about 60 miles northeast of Palm Springs, population 45,000.

MISSION

Marine Air Ground Task Force Training Command (MAGTF): Conducts advanced individual and collective combined arms and maneuver training, manages the Commandant's Service Level Training Program (SLTP) in order to enhance the combat readiness of the Marine Air Ground Task Force (MAGTF), and Service's responsibilities to National Security.

HISTORY

Used by the U.S. Army and Navy for aviation training during World War II, the huge tract of desert land lay dormant until the Marines took it over in 1952. The base was officially commissioned in 1957 and named the Marine Corps Training Center Twentynine Palms. The base was designated as the Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center in February 1979.

Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center (MCAGCC): Supports MAGTF through logistics and service support activities and provides a standard of excellence in infrastructure to ensure the readiness of the tenant and resident commands aboard the Combat Center and Marine Corps Mountain Warfare Training Center.

DESERT LIVING

It's been said, "You cry when you get here, you cry when you leave."

At first sight, our desert landscape may not look like much, but there is lots to love about our unique location. Here are some tips to help you enjoy your stay and embrace the desert with open arms.

THRIVE IN THE DESERT

From backpacking in Joshua Tree National Park to taking a stroll around the block; thriving in the desert hinges on practicing proper desert safety.

Pack water Whether taking a quick trip to the Marine Mart or hiking in the desert landscape; always pack water.

Layer up While you might be tempted to put on as little as possible on hot desert days, clothes are essential to keeping you cool. Clothes prevent sweat from evaporating too quickly, help the body cool itself and ward off sun exposure. Keep in mind temperatures in the desert can rise above 120°F during the day and dip below 40°F at night. Your very last line of defense is your skin. Always wear sunscreen in the desert. Even in the dead of winter, the desert sun shines bright. Protect your skin from harmful rays with SPF 15 or more.

Protect your children and pets

Twentynine Palms is no place to keep your pet outside. Never leave your pet or child in a hot car. Even with the windows down, temperatures inside a vehicle can reach triple digits in a matter of minutes.

Ward off critters Pet food, counter crumbs and damp corners are all magnets for the desert's array of pests and predators. Keep a close eye on pets, shake out clothes and shoes each day and be extra careful when moving in the dark. Don't leave anything outside that coyotes and other critters might find appetizing.

Prepare Make sure even on the shortest trips into our desert, you have enough gas in your car, plenty of water and sunscreen.

THRIVE IN THE CULTURE

The most prominent myth of this duty station is that you're in the middle of nowhere. In fact, nothing could be further from the truth. In Twentynine Palms, you are in the middle of everything. Do you crave snowcapped mountains? Big Bear and Mount San Jacinto are only a short drive away. Are you longing to lay on the cool beach? Head over to the pristine beaches of Orange County. Or maybe you desire what a big city offers? Palm Springs, Los Angeles and San Diego are all within a three-hour drive! Our Single Marine Program offers a large array of programs and trips to keep active duty military members busy. MCCS also hosts concerts and other events to keep you engaged. When travel is involved, be sure to visit American Forces Travel at americanforcetravel.com for military and DoW discounts on hotels, flights, cars, vacation packages, cruises and more. Finally, sign up for MCCS' Life in 29 eNewsletter that's delivered twice a month. It's loaded with suggestions on what to do with your time in the desert. Visit: MCCS29.org/lifein29.

Make friends and get involved MCCS has an array of workshops and group classes that give you an outlet to exercise your hobbies. Check out the MCCS Youth Sports program if you have children. The LifeSkills program offers regular workshops to help you become a stronger individual and a L.I.N.K.S. session will give you an inside view of the Corps.

Volunteer Do you like working with animals? Helping people? Playing with kids? Organizations both on and off base, such as the Navy Marine Corps Relief Society, American Red Cross, Humane Society and Reach Out Morongo Basin need your help. Volunteering can also open doors to your dream job.

See the sites Joshua Tree National Park is only eight miles south of the base. This beautiful national treasure is world-renowned for its rock climbing. The park covers nearly 800,000 acres and offers picturesque hiking and camping, not to mention bighorn sheep, deer, mountain lions, bobcats, coyotes, the threatened desert tortoise and numerous other reptiles and birds. While you're here, you may also want to check out the Amboy Crater, Kelso Dunes, Aerial Tramway, Big Bear and the Mojave National Preserve's Mitchell Caverns and Hole in the Wall.

For those of you who prefer more culturally-engaging activities, check out live music at Pappy & Harriet's in Pioneertown, the Palm Springs Art Museum and Thursday night VillageFest, The Living Desert Zoo and Gardens, and Gubler Orchids, to name a few.

Educate yourself Twentynine Palms is a great place to continue your education. The Education Center offers education counseling, testing and information to help you get started. National University and Copper Mountain College also have offices on base where you can take evening and weekend classes. While stationed in California, you are eligible for the state tuition rate. Stop by for details.

Get a job Getting a job on or off base is a great way to help you thrive throughout your desert stay. MCCC and the Combat Center are two of the largest employers in the Morongo Basin. An array of positions are also available in the local community for those willing to persevere in their pursuit of a job. Be sure to visit the Career Resource Office for local job listings, Microsoft Office Specialist training and help in preparing that winning resume. You can also visit careers.usmc-mccs.org to learn about applying for available MCCC positions.

THRIVE DURING DEPLOYMENT

Military spouses survive many uncertainties. But one thing is sure: if you are married to an active duty service member, you will experience a deployment, whether it is to foreign shores or to a distant state. The best way to survive a deployment is to be prepared and stay connected.

Be prepared Being prepared means being informed and connected to valuable resources that can help during times of separation. Readiness & Deployment Support, Navy Marine Corps Relief Society and the Chaplains' Religious Enrichment Development Operation (CREDO) are just a few of the many services that are here to help spouses of deployed service members.

Stay connected As a spouse, you too are on a mission. To be successful in that mission, you will need to stay connected with your fellow military spouses. The best way to do that is to utilize the services here aboard the Combat Center. Reach out to fellow spouses through the Family Readiness Program, L.I.N.K.S., LifeSkills Program and Military OneSource. Visit 29palms.usmc-mccs.org to learn about new MCCC events and programs, and to sign up for the Life in 29 eNewsletter. It's your guide to what's happening!

Use what's available Information, Referral & Relocation (Bldg. 1526) can provide information regarding maps, local attractions and helpful programs. Being new to the Combat Center and Twentynine Palms doesn't have to be traumatic. The MCCC staff aboard the base are here to support our military men and women and their families. Whether you are looking for specific information or ideas of what to do and where to meet like-minded people, asking questions is your first step. We'll help you find the answers. We hope you go beyond surviving your time in our beautiful desert. We're here to help you thrive. Our mission is you! Welcome aboard.

If you are the spouse of an active duty service member, ask us if you qualify for Spousal Preference. The program requires a copy of the active duty service member's orders with the spouse's name listed.

HOW TO APPLY:

To apply for a position with MCCS 29 Palms, log on to the website careers.usmc-mccs.org. From there, click on "Prospective Employees" in the right column. In the new window that opens, type MAGTFCTC 29 Palms in the search field for all positions located on the Twentynine Palms Marine Corps base.
